

SLOMAN Ltd., Rotary pumps for sanitary, industrial and municipal applications

The company is located in the town of Subotica and has an excellent communication position, being located very close to the main railway line Budapest-Belgrade-Istanbul and has good access to one of the main arteries of the European traffic, highway E-75, which directly connects these cities.

The distances Subotica-Belgrade and Subotica-Budapest are almost equal-cca 200 km. The town of Subotica is situated on the north of Serbia, very close to the border with Hungary.

SLOMAN Ltd. from Subotica is a company concerned with design, production, reconstruction and overhauling of rotary pumps.

SLOMAN Ltd. leads very intense program development in the area of research & development, designing and production, it combines its wide design activities with offering engineering services and site instalment.

Products of SLOMAN company has at its disposal rich references on both domestic and international markets. Production range of our factory is developing within the framework of needs and requests of Serbia and Montenegro and all five continents. There is especially prominent export.

SLOMAN Ltd. is reliable, correct and pleasant business partner which guarantees low prices with short delivery terms and high quality of its products and services from its production range.